SUMMARY

I am an AI-empowered front-facing marketer with a track record of managing high-profile client experiences and producing innovative solutions. I consistently strive to exceed expectations and deliver impactful results. I serve as a change agent for AI and process adoption initiatives, translating org-wide strategy into team-level engagement and behavior change.

WORK EXPERIENCE

HCLTech, Noida

August 2023 – Present

Associate Marketing Manager

- Design HCLTech's brand experience strategy for CXOs of global clients, government delegations, media houses and strategic GTM partners.
- Enable persona specific content-customization through CMS for each CXO engagement, tailoring narratives, assets and touchpoints to the client's role and priorities so every experience enhances brand perception and competitive positioning
- Launched an AI adoption analytics program, building a dashboard on Productivity Quotient (PQ) / Efficiency Quotient (EQ) frameworks to track Copilot and AI-tool usage across the team, accelerating org-wide AI enablement strategy.
- Leverage AI across the full production stack for image and video generation, UI/website framework and layout design, data analytics and query handling, including deploying answer engines, chatbots and communication automation across new and existing portals.
- Architect multichannel communication strategy spanning LinkedIn, email, Viva Engage, internal newsletters and in-person sessions to drive change management and awareness campaigns that build engagement and adoption.
- Track content and engagement performance across touchpoints and manage budget allocation across operations and content production, using data to prioritize high-impact assets and optimize resource deployment.
